Wine List

Every wine on our list is truly special, but we are especially fond of these wines. Each offers tremendous price for value: we think these wines deliver flavor and complexity comparable to wines that are as much as double the price. Additionally, each wine here has a natural affinity for our menus and pairs well with many of the different preparations.

Red Wine · New World

Cabernet Sauvignon

We organize the New World first by grape varietal, then by producer and geographic origin. This is in contrast to the wines of Italy, where the emphasis is on the appellation and producer, and reflects the substantial shift in mindset and approach.

Pinot Noir

This grape is finicky yet produces some of the most ethereal, sensual wines in the world, and it yields wines that vary greatly depending on where it is grown. Our selection is mostly from California; the wines are ripe, with both intensity and balance.
